Everybody should patronize the entertainment to be given by the Monday club on the evening of Monday, April 13, for the benefit of the public library. The beautiful play "Sunset" will be produced.

The case of the territory vs. Grove & Sharp is on trial today in the district court. The defendants are charged with selling ore shipped to the Val Verde smelter while it was being sampled by the company's assayer.

W. T. Little, representing the St. Elmo Cigar company, who has been in town for several days, taking orders for his firm left this morning for Albuquerque. Mr. Little is not only the traveling representative for the above institution, but is also vice president of the company.

The remains of the late C. R. Hall of Fool's Gulch were brought up on this morning's train from Congress Junction, and were met at the train by a number of friends and taken direct to the Catholic church, where funeral services were held, and they were then taken to the cemetery. Deceased was about 40 years old and leaves a wife and one child. He had been sick for several weeks.

M. M. Pierce, of Aurora, Illinois, who is interested in some mining properties of which A. J. Pickersell is superintendent, came in yesterday from a visit to Mr. Pickersell's camp, and left on this morning's train for the Grand Canyon. Thence he will return to his home at the place mentioned above. Mr. Pierce expressed himself well pleased with this section of the country, this being his first visit to Arizona.

Under Sheriff Platt received a telegram yesterday from Sheriff Roberts, from Benson, which stated that the latter was tied up at that place and would not be able to get away until this morning. From the wording of the telegram it was thought that the cause of his delay was a railroad wash-out. From the fact that he had been to Yuma and said nothing about the Goldwater murder suspect arrested there, it is inferred that he was not the man wanted.

Harry Porter, who has been connected with the Bradley Drug company for the past year, has been connected to resign his position "on account of ill health." He will probably join Dr. Walls in his camping trip for the summer. Mr. Porter is a very accommodating and competent druggist and the firm regretted very much to lose his services. J. W. Sebring arrived a couple of days ago from Pennsylvania to take his place. Mr. Sebring comes highly recommended as a pharmacist.

An unknown man, on horseback, was nearly drowned at the ford near D. Scott's Tuesday. Persons who have been on the Verde for years claim that the present rise has never been equaled excepting that of '92. The valley, as seen from Jerome, looks as though some of the big alfalfa fields have been submerged. The treacherous nature of the Verde channel carries unbusiness as among those owning property on the river.—Jerome Reporter.

A fatal shooting scrape took place in Suen Monday evening, and which resulted in the death of John Clauson, says the Prospector. It seems that Clauson was somewhat under the influence of liquor and was engaged in fighting with a woman in one of the wine rooms in the rear of one of the saloons, when the cries of the woman reached the ears of Deputy Sheriff Nody Wilson. He entered the room and told Clauson to stop beating the woman. Clauson replied that he would not, at the same time reaching for his gun, and succeeded in getting it out of his pocket, when Wilson shot him through the chest. Clauson's gun went off but the shot went through the side of the building. A coroner's jury exonerated Wilson from all blame.

This was sentence day in the district court. Judge Sloan had two prisoners before him who had been convicted by juries.

Apollonio Lopez, who ran away with a Mexican woman, was adjudged guilty of abduction and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Archie La Cruz, who slashed a man at Congress Junction and who was charged with assault with murderous intent was convicted of assault and was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or to serve time aggregating that amount computed at the rate of $3 per day. As $5 per day is pretty good wages he will probably serve the time.

A Phoenix Democrat reporter who is evidently a new comer and has not gotten the bearings properly yet writes as follows of Joseph L. Giroux, superintendent of the United Verde mine: "Joseph L. Giroux and family of Jerome are guests at the Commercial. Mr. Giroux left last evening for the south and will take the big copper camp of the territory and Sonora camps in his bearings. During his absence his family will remain here. Mr. Giroux, it will be remembered, was the chemist who was mainly instrumental in extinguishing the fires in the United Verde mines at Jerome recently, and by so doing reopened one of the largest and busiest mining camps in the territory. According to reports he was offered a permanent position with the United Verde people at Jerome with a very good salary but he thought he could do better by opening an office for himself at one of the big camps in the southern part of the territory. It is very probable that he will locate at Cananea."

James K. Slack, the well known miner is in town from the Black Canyon section where he recently located and has been developing some good mining properties. Mr. Slack is an experienced miner, and comes as near as any one in knowing good ore and good indications for a mine.

Mrs. A. E. Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Len F. Hale arrived on last night's train from Kansas City with her three young sons for a visit of several months in Prescott. She and her husband have been residing in Kansas City for about a year. Mr. Taylor expects to return here on a visit soon.

The pump for the Penn Gold Mining company and on account of the absence of which the Mudhole mine has been closed down for so long, arrived yesterday and was shipped to the mine today by Brown Bros. It is the largest sinking pump that has ever been unloaded at the Prescott depot.

Miss Hamrick of Chicago opened a handsome display of needle work at Hotel Burke today. Lessons will be given for a few days on the new darning effects which are the fad this season. Lovers of the correct things in shirt waists will be glad for the pretty patterns Miss Hamrick has brought from Maynard's and Peralta's.

After the trial of a recent case in which the defendant was acquitted a juror, who had served on the case, on meeting the defendant's attorney remarked to him: "As soon as I saw you were defending the man I knew he must be innocent." Such implicit confidence in attorneys is rarely seen.

F. W. Howard, who went to Flagstaff and Williams a few days ago in the latest of the Bisbee-Arizona Copper Mining company, writes that he is meeting with splendid success in those cities in placing stock. The price will be advanced on April 10 from 15 cents to 25 cents. Mr. Howard thinks he will dispose of nearly all of the 15 cent stock before he returns to Prescott.

The new office room of the Hotel Congress has been finished and is one of the most comfortable office rooms of any hotel in the northern part of the territory. The room was enlarged by the addition of eight feet on the east side and has been newly papered and painted and the floor covered with linoleum which taken together with the smiling face of Landlord Vincent and his good natured wife make everything cheerful and home like.

Major B. W. Leavelle, adjutant general of the Arizona National Guard, came up from the south on Saturday. While in Nogales he organized a troop of cavalry for the National guard, being the first cavalry troop organized in the territory. He says that there are thirty members at present composed of the best men in that town and the prospect is good for the membership being raised to fifty men. The officers are: Captain, Charles E. Perkins; first lieutenant, Phil Herold; second lieutenant, Emory L. Chalfant.

A telegram from Kingman dated April 5 says: News has just reached the manager of the Elks, that Charles Blakey, known as the "Cowboy Pianist," and Roy Winchester, a young miner, on the trail forty miles from this place, by James McKenney. Nothing definite is known of the cause of the murder, but it is thought that McKenney, who was charged with the killing of William L. Wynn, at Porterville, Cal., last July, took the men for officers, and laid in wait for them on the trail. A sheriff's posse is now in pursuit of the murderer.

L. F. Fournier, who has been with the firm of Babitt Bros., of Flagstaff, for some time in the capacity of salesman and decorator for their Nevada blankets and other Indian goods, has accepted a position with the Basford-Burmister Co., in this city and will have charge of the furniture and carpet department. He arrived in Prescott Saturday and assumed his new duties this morning. Mr. Fournier is said to be an expert decorator and his work is undoubtedly a very valuable man with this firm which carries one of the largest stocks in this line in the southwest.

Pen. S. Hildreth last night received a thorough pointing dog from Gibson Wells, Tennessee. The dog came by express and is probably as fine a canine as has ever been seen in Prescott. He is a grand son of "Tieck Boy," a famous pointer, who has been a prize winner at a greater number of bench shows than almost any dog placed on exhibition, on his sire's side, the latter being Post, his grand dam being Fanny Bush. His dam is Nancy Hanks by Dush and Bessie, all familiar names to dog fanciers. The registered name of the dog received by Mr. Hildreth is the common one of Sam Jones.

Mrs. J. H. Collins has received the sad intelligence of the death of her father, Captain Ferdinand L. Clark, at Highlands, California. He died of pneumonia on Monday, March 30, aged 60 years. The Los Angeles Times contains the following brief biographical sketch of deceased, who was well known in California in literary and military circles: "He served with the Ninety-ninth New York infantry throughout the war of the rebellion and afterward engaged in deep sea explorations among the West Indies. Later he was transferred to Hawaii where he became the confidential adviser of King Kalakaua. Returning to the United States he was the annexation of the islands, he was employed in the forestry reserve service. Up to the time of his death, Captain Clark wrote extensively for periodicals, chiefly on scientific subjects." His wife and three daughters survive him, the latter being Mrs. E. J. Lowrey and Mrs. Cornelia Noble of Fresno, and Mrs. J. H. Collins of Prescott.

Edwards were appointed a committee to look after and perfect the organization of the company to report at a meeting to be held tomorrow evening.

Constable Pete Boosche of Congress came up today with two Mexicans who are held to appear before the grand jury on a charge of horse stealing. They are accused of stealing two horses from a man named Cannon, who is a resident of the Elks. The theft occurred about two weeks ago and the thieves were caught with the horses in the Harqua Hala country a few days later.

J. A. Hope went to Ash Fork this morning to meet Mrs. Hope who will return home today from an extended business trip to the eastern markets in the interests of the Basford-Burmister company. Mrs. Hope has been gone nearly two months during which time she has visited Chicago, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other places purchasing stock for the company. She has been through some rough weather during the time and has seen little else but storm and blizzard and is rejoicing to get back to sun kissed Arizona.

E. B. Gage came up from Congress on Sunday night and last evening for Tombstone. He says that good progress is being made in opening up the Tombstone mines, and that their most sanguine expectations are being more than realized. He stated that he had received a telegram on Monday stating that the first passenger train over the recently completed railroad to that town left Tombstone yesterday morning, and that regular service will now be installed.

In the May Delinquent the pages of illustrated cookery portray an important feature in trays for invalids. The diets suited to various kinds of illnesses are described, and in each case the repeat is shown attractively served. The book is well illustrated and is explained in detail, as well as other dainties made from dough, Rhubarb, a somewhat neglected delicacy in America, affords a number of apparently excellent recipes, and the secrets of other reasonable dishes are imparted.

The Prescott Electric company is making preparations to remove the telephone wires running east and west of Union street to the new street, on account of Union street not being open clear through. A large cable is being run from the central office up the alley to Goodwin street, where the wires will be run on poles. The cable is being put under the ground by the company.

The company has also received the poles for the new lights which will be put in for the city. The number of lights will be increased from fifteen to about twenty-four.

A Journal-Miner representative visited Mrs. Florence Walker's art studio yesterday afternoon and found it thronged with ladies admiring the many beautiful and artistic articles on exhibition. In the various articles on exhibition, the skill and patience of the artist is certainly portrayed in a very vivid manner. Mrs. Walker's special line is wax carving. She has a very great variety of specimens of her work. Since her return she has already secured a number of pupils and will not only engage in the work herself but will give instruction to others.

J. H. McDonough, brother-in-law of Prof. A. J. Matthews, who visited

Prescott a few weeks ago with the latter, came up from Tempe this morning and informed a Journal-Miner man that he thought he would decide to stay in Prescott and open a large steam laundry. Mr. McDonough has been in that business in New Jersey for a number of years and is thoroughly conversant with the business, having recently sold out a business there that employed from five to nine wagons. Prescott always welcomes men who come here to help build up the business interests of the city, and the Journal-Miner wishes him success.

W. A. Cline, of the Prescott Transfer Co., had a very annoying accident happen to him the other day. He had opened the safe belonging to the company and in unlocking the cash drawer he had left the bunch of keys hanging in the drawer. He was called out for a few moments and during that time some one came in, closed the outside door and turned the combination. As the only key that would unlock the safe was locked inside the cash drawer, the safe was left open and a new key made for the safe. The new key arrived a day or two ago and the safe was opened for the first time in about two weeks.

In coming over from the springs to Hot Springs Junction yesterday afternoon the stage brake failed to work coming down the grade and the stage was over turned. Mrs. Clark had some baggage and her leg was bruised but neither were hurt at all seriously. The stage was mended up considerably. They were the only occupants of the vehicle except the driver and he escaped unhurt by jumping.

DEATH OF G. S. PORTER

The Los Angeles Times of Sunday contained a notice of the death of George Seward Porter, aged 80 years and 7 months. This news will come as a shock to many of our friends in Prescott. It is only a few months since Mr. Porter left here after spending several weeks in the town where he had resided twenty long years and where he had formed so many warm friendships. When here he was the very picture of health and activity, and he was only a few days from his home here when he died.

Deceased resided in Prescott for a great number of years with his family and moved from here to Los Angeles several years ago. It was about two years ago that Mr. Porter's wife died and his death affected him very seriously, as they had been in each other's company constantly during the long period of their married life and her death was a great blow to him. Yet as stated during his visit in Prescott he seemed in excellent health and spirits.

Geo. S. Porter, jr., was the only son of the couple and survives his father. The funeral took place at Los Angeles on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

COUNCIL MEETING

The city council held its regular monthly meeting last night, the mayor and all members of the council being present.

J. H. Mulrean made a statement in reference to his plumbing license, saying he was willing to pay it provided the city ordinance pertaining to plumbing was complied with by the council. The question was referred to the legislative committee.

Petition from residents of West Prescott to change name of Weber avenue to Park avenue was passed.

Motion to allow Postmaster Smith to place mail boxes on streets directed to the legislative committee.

The reports of the recorder, chief of police, and city assessor were referred to the finance committee.

A petition from June Freeman, to remove the houses of the city, was referred to street committee.

Claims against the city were audited and allowed for the regular case of Mrs. M. M. March and E. E. Ellsworth was elected city attorney.

The council will hold a special meeting April 10 to consider the matter of the Hill judgment against the city.

CONTESTS THE WILL

The attention of the probate court has been occupied all day today in hearing evidence in the will contest of the late Mrs. M. M. March. Mr. Currier against Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wager. In November of last year G. W. Currier died in this city at the residence of an Old Fellow and that deceased was an Old Fellow and that old charge of the funeral and the heirs of the deceased who live in Iowa, asked that I. P. Barnett, who was noble grand of the Old Fellows lodge in Prescott, at that time, be appointed administrator of the estate, which consisted principally of personal property. A short time after his death the will was contested by the heirs of Mr. Currier, on the grounds that the deceased was not competent to make a will at the time this will is dated.

Columbia, S. C., April 7.—The grand jury today returned a true bill against Jas. H. Tillman, charging him with the murder of W. G. Gales, last January. The case will be called next Monday.

NOVEL PROHIBITION PLAN.

At the recent session of the Arizona legislature a law was passed prohibiting saloons within a certain distance of railroad grading camps. L. B. Lantry, who has the contract for grading the Santa Fe cut off, in New Mexico from Bolen eastward, there have four or five camps established at different points on the grade, with headquarters at Belen. The Lantry sons appreciate the importance of saloons on the part of railroad graders, but instead of applying to the legislature for a prohibition law preventing saloons being established near their camps they enacted a little legislation, or regulation of their own which will prove just as effective as a territorial statute. In fact the man who attempts to run a saloon in the vicinity of a Lantry Sons grading camp with the single exception of Belen, will find his occupation as lonesome as herding sheep out on the plains. The plan adopted by them is in their system of paying their men, by which they get no money until after reaching Belen, their headquarters. If a man quits work he is given a code certificate for his pay. The code is such that he doesn't know himself how much money is coming to him. Of course the clerks at the office in Belen know what the certificate says and pays in a check. If the employee were paid in the grading camp the money they received would create an incentive for the establishment of a saloon there. This way there is very little money in the camp and consequently very little trouble.

Everybody has heard of Dolgeville, New York, a model town where Mr. Dolge established a felt factory on co-operative principles. Mr. Dolge met with financial reverses and moved to California five or six years ago. It is announced now that he has interested H. E. Huntington, the millionaire railroad man in an enterprise to establish a felt factory and build a town near Alhambra, California. The site for the town has already been selected and part of the machinery for the factory has been purchased.
